

John H. Amey

December 25, 1949 - November 3, 2018

PITTSBURG — John Holman Amey, 68, passed away quietly early on Saturday morning, Nov. 3, 2018, at his home in Pittsburg after a courageous battle with cancer.

He was born in West Stewartstown on Dec. 25, 1949, a son of the late Holman J. and Dorothy (Sprague) Amey. He was the fifth of nine children and was, as his mother put it, her “very best Christmas present ever.” He received his education at the Pittsburg schools and graduated in 1968.

John loved the woods and farming, taking over the day-to-day duties of the family farm, including the milking and raising of young livestock, at the young age of 15. He would continue to run the farm after his parents passed on, and did so for more than 52 years. John earned the prestigious NH Farm of Distinction and received many other awards over the years for the high quality of the milk. He was a true believer in animal husbandry, and his fine herd of Holsteins was noted for their good nature and high milk production. In the last few years of operation, John had converted to the coveted organic status. He also ran a small beef operation as a sideline and always kept a few sheep. His farm is one of the very few that have continuously kept sheep since its founding during the Civil War years. When the farm closed down commercially earlier in 2018, it was the last dairy farm in the Town of Pittsburg.

John was active with the NH Farm Bureau and was the Coos County president for several years. He was a member of the board of directors at the Merrimack Farmers’ Exchange and was the county representative for the FSA program. John was also active in local politics, performing the duty of Pittsburg Town Moderator for several years, and he was a member of the Pittsburg School Board. He also served several terms on the local planning board. John’s last public contribution was spearheading the local opposition to the Northern Pass power line project. John appeared in several films and documentaries, some of which were for The Society for the Protection of NH Forests and the NH Farm Bureau. John has also appeared in Yankee and Forbes magazines on special interest topics.

John loved to write and could accurately figure mathematics in his head. His dry sense of humor was a local legend, and his witty anecdotes were always a hit in any gathering. He loved maple sugaring, and some of his best times were spent in the family sugar house, where he made the syrup in the old-fashioned method of his forebears. John also loved forest management and acted as his own forester on many wood harvests on his land. He was a good steward of the land, and always believed very strongly that, as a steward, it was his duty to leave the land better than he found it.

He was a music lover, too, and for 15 years had hosted the Amey Family Bluegrass Concert under the Stars. He loved that event, where he would revel in the music and camaraderie, and loved his official part as host that went along with it. John loved to go see his favorite band, Parker Hill Road, where he would show up unannounced at their performances.

John especially loved his grandchildren and spent as much of his free time as he could with them. He would often be seen in the evenings holding one or more of them, reading to them or telling stories. He also enjoyed visiting his siblings' sugar camps and going on adventures in the woods with them.

He leaves behind his loving wife, Cindy-Lou (Duxbury) Amey of Pittsburg; son, Nathaniel, of Rapid City, SD; a daughter, Cayenne, of Colebrook, NH; son, Micah, of Boise, ID; son, Stephen of Daytona Beach, Fla.; daughter, Amanda, of Amherst, NH; son, Joseph "Dickie", of Pittsburg; daughter, Rachel, of Farmington, NH; three brothers, Roy of Pittsburg and Mark of Clarksville, NH, Paul of Waterford, Vt.; and one sister, Dottie-Jane "DJ" of Clarksville.

He is predeceased by a son, Eric; a daughter, Janeen; a brother, Alfred; and three sisters, Maudetta, Nancy and Kathleen.

Friends and family are invited to visit with the Amey family at the Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home in Colebrook on Friday, Nov. 9, 2018 from 5 to 7 p.m. A graveside service will take place in the spring of 2019 in the Indian Stream Cemetery in Pittsburg, of which notice will be given.

Expressions of sympathy in memory of Mr. Amey may be made to the fund to keep his beloved bluegrass concert an annual event--the John H. Amey Benefit Account, c/o Woodsville Guaranty Savings Bank, P.O. Box 252, Lisbon, NH, 03585.

Arrangements are under the direction of Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home, Colebrook, NH.

“ The North Country has lost a true icon. John Amey was one of the wisest and finest people I've ever known. He cared for his land, his farm, his community, his family and his friends. He also cared for Indian Stream and the Connecticut River - we have all benefited from his knowledge and foresight.

“ Very happy to have visited John & Cindy-Lou 3 weeks ago while staying up in Pittsburg. Loved John as he was the salt of the Earth and a true N.H. native. Great herdsman and very good farmer. I worked with John and Cindy-Lou for over 10 years with their organically certification status. I miss John already.

“ We are saddened by your loss and offer our deepest sympathy to you and your families. Even though we only met John a few times when visiting my sister for Moose Festivals and joining in at the farm, then attending The Bluegrass Concerts, I witnessed a proud moment each and every time he was able to put a smile on someone's face and a memory in their heart. May John Rest In Peace now for his well done job on earth .. thank you Amey family..

“ John Amey was the hardest working, most honest and humble gentleman I have ever had the honor and privilege of calling a friend. To Cindy Lou and the entire Amey family, I thank you all for sharing John with me, my family and all the other people that he so positively affected. His kindness and life will be pasted on by all who knew and came in contact with him. We will see John on the other side.

“ To the Amey Family and Cindy Lou
I am so fortunare that my path and John's crossed in the 1990's. His love of family and the land was infectious. I got my best team of Dutch belted oxen out if his beef barn. John provided me and my cattle a haven from the storm, allowing us to live in Pittsburg on Indian steam farm for a few years. He was a remarkable, kind, gentle soul whose ties to his community, land, farm and forest will not be forgotten. John will be missed by many. His impact on all of us will be felt for generations to come. Rest In Peace. Patty Duffy

“ John Amey= The North Country. Proud, kind, considerate, humble, sincere, a very hard working steward of his land & a wonderful neighbor & advocate for us all. His memory will be eternal in all his good works - his family, his neighbors, his entire community. Thank you, John, for The Bluegrass Concerts & Speaking up for all of us here against Northern Pass. Thank you for being you, John, & I am grateful to have had yours & Cindy Lou's friendship here in God's country. You will ALWAYS be here, John.

“ I wouldn't trade any of my childhood memories on Tabor road for anything! Sleepovers at the Amey's were always a blast. John was always so warm and welcoming and had such a calming nature. He taught me everything a kid would want to know about his farm and he did it with such pride. I am so sorry for his friends and family and i send my deepest condolences. John Amey was a huge piece of North Country Heart may he rest peacefully

“ To the Amey family: I just wanted to say that at our class reunion I was sitting next to John and when the band was playing a lively tune John said softly "I could listen to that all night" I know that he is in a better place listening to the music. Rest in peace John.

“ John was one of my high school classmates and we recently attended our 50th class reunion in September. I can honestly say, we all loved John and were thrilled to have him with us for our reunion. John sent me an email after the reunion to say that it was one of the most meaningful events he had attended in a long time. I believe John felt all our love for him that nite. RIP John.
