“ Tina Marie, Joeseeph, and Dalton -

Even though it has been many years since I have seen you, I still remember having Joeseeph in my third grade classroom at Colebrook Elementary School. (The last year that the "yellow" brick building was standing prior to opening the new school.) It was my last year teaching third grade and Joeseeph's last year at CES before moving to Washington state. Our last moments together were sad ones for both Joeseeph and I. I am sure that Joeseeph and Dalton have grown into fine young men. Please tell them Mr. Eames says, "Hi!" :)

Please accept my sincere condolences in the loss of your father/grandfather. Loving memories of him will keep you close to him from this day forward and always

Continue to take care of each other and know that my thoughts are with you during this difficult time.##imported-begin##Mr. Ryan E. Eames##imported-end##
