“ Cindy was a "Great" gal and a very hard working, faithful worker whom always stood up to the plate and often not only did her job, but filled in for many at the drop of a hat last minute call. She fought hard and long and was a tough nut to crack in sickness. She was always humorous and cared about many things in her personal life. I just so happened had the pleasure of working with her for years at the Tillotson production facility by the Balsams. Cindy had a great reputation with everyone always due to hard work, willingness to help and great attitude upon doing so, all the time with a smile. When things got tough, she pushed harder and got it done. I'm sorry for her family and I'll certainly will miss knowing she is not holding the fort of the North Country anymore. I wish her family the best always and I know the good Lord has an important place for her.
