

Clare H. Young

April 14, 1921 - January 25, 2017

COLEBROOK— Clare H. Young, 95, of Colebrook, died on Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, 2017, at the Upper Connecticut Valley Hospital in Colebrook after a brief illness.

He was born in Milan, NH, on April 14, 1921, a son to the late Gerald and Claudice (Hibbard) Young. Upon the onset of the Great Depression, Clare moved as a young child with his family to Colebrook, where he and his siblings were raised on their family farm.

Clare worked with his family on that farm for many years. He also worked mowing the Colebrook Village Cemetery for many years, and he mowed lawns for many local friends. However, music was his passion, and Clare was a talented musician who could play numerous instruments. His grandfather was the founder of the local “Young’s Orchestra” in which Clare played for years. Until only recently, Clare could be found playing music with other local musicians for the residents of the Coos County Nursing Hospital. He also enjoyed tinkering on his cars, and attending local church suppers to visit with his friends and neighbors.

Clare is survived by his sister, Lorraine Heath of Bedford, NH; and four nephews, Richmond Parker of Columbia, Reginald Parker of Pittsburg, Russell Heath of Bedford, and Kenison Heath of Colebrook.

He is preceded in death by a sister, Geneva Parker.

There are no public calling hours. A graveside service will be held in the spring at the Colebrook Village Cemetery of which notice will be given.

Expressions of sympathy in memory of Mr. Young may be made to the SAU #7, for the purpose and use in the Colebrook schools music department, c/o Cheryl Covill, 21 Academy St., Colebrook, NH 03576.

Condolences may be offered to the family on-line by going to www.jenkinsnewman.com.

Arrangements are under the direction of Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home, Colebrook, NH.
