

Clifford R. Heath

April 29, 1939 - March 25, 2004

Mr. Clifford "Cliff" R. Heath, 64, of Bloomfield, VT, passed away Thursday evening, March 25, 2004, at the Upper Connecticut Valley Hospital.

Mr. Heath was born April 29, 1939, in Grasmere, NH, son of the late Mildred (Carroll) Heath-Mulaire and Elroy Heath.

Mr. Heath worked for Seaward Construction in Kittery, ME, for 8 years and later for Public Service of New Hampshire for 30 years, retiring in 1994. He completed the course work with Berean School of the Bible to become licensed as a Pastor with the Assembly of God Church. During his years with PSNH, he was actively involved in ministry and following his retirement from PSNH, he served as a full-time pastor at the Living Word Assembly of God Church in Gilmington Iron Works, NH. In 1997, he retired from the pastorate and moved to Bloomfield where he continued his ministry by becoming an active member of the Faith Chapel Assembly of God in Columbia, NH, and the Lancaster Assembly of God, serving as a Bible Study and Sunday School Teacher, and preaching on an occasional Sunday. Mr. Heath loved hunting and fishing and was a licensed guide for bear and cat hunts. He was a member of the Colebrook Jaycees and was an avid Boston Red Sox fan.

Mr. Heath is survived by his loving wife, Theresa "Terri" (Gravel) Heath of Bloomfield, VT; a son, Mark Heath and his wife, Elaine, of Hardwick, VT; his grandchildren: Joshua and Heidi Heath of Johnson, VT, and Francesca Heath of Hardwick, VT; and two sisters, Lillian Dickson of Waynesboro, GA, and Nancy Rodgers of Damascus, MD.

Mr. Heath is preceded in death by a brother, William Heath and four sisters, Constance Franklin, Christine Hebert, Sandra Abrahamson and Rena Heath.
