I realize I'm 4+ years late with my thoughts but I lost touch with Dave, and just heard of his passing. He certainly was one of my best friends.

I met Dave as a member of my three-year older brother's group in Laconia, NH. He became a close family friend.

I've always figured the ride from Hanover to Laconia in the back of Dave's Volkswagen is where I first fell in love with Carolyn, my wife of 54 years.

Dave must have spent a lot of time at my father's house in Gilford. On our table bowling game, he played 497 games with a total pinfall of 50,198!

When I got out of the Navy and we decided to put up a log house, Dave was between jobs and was the perfect guy to hire to help me put up the log walls and the roof. We still live in the same house.

After that, Carolyn and I lost touch with Dave. We think the last time we saw him was when his mother died in 2003. We have nothing but the fondest memories of Dave. A little late in life to be learning the stay and touch lesson. Rest in Peace, Dave, thank you for all you did for us, and for being a heck of a human being.
