

Jennifer Jackson

June 15, 1982 - July 18, 2004

Jennifer "Jenn" Jackson, 22, of Canaan, died on July 18, 2004, at Massachusetts General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Jennifer was born on June 15, 1982, the daughter of Mary-Ann (Jackson) Gilbert. She graduated from high school in June, 2004, and planned to attend college. She enjoyed photography, driving in her car, hanging out with friends and helping others.

Jennifer had a love for animals, including the stuffed ones. Horseback riding and four-wheeling were among her many passions. She loved to watch science fiction and horror movies. Her favorite TV series was "Stargate SG-1" on the SciFi channel. She had two poems published, one of which she read as a eulogy at her uncle's funeral.

Jennifer is survived by her mother, Mary-Ann (Jackson) Gilbert and stepfather Denis Gilbert of Canaan; a brother, Josh Gilbert; maternal grandparents, Paul and Connie Jackson of Canaan; paternal grandparents, Wilmont and Evelyn Carney of Clarksville; step-grandmother, Rejeanne Gilbert of Colebrook; and many aunts, uncles, and cousins. She was predeceased by an uncle, John Jackson, in 1997.
