

Laval L. Corriveau

April 28, 1926 - January 6, 2004

Colebrook, New Hampshire

Mr. Laval L. Corriveau, 77, of Monadnock Village, Colebrook, NH, passed away suddenly at his home on Tuesday, January 6, 2004.

Mr. Corriveau was born April 28, 1926, in Bury, P.Q., Canada, the son of the late Aime and Aurore (Roi) Corriveau.

In his youth, Mr. Corriveau worked on the family farm and later began cutting wood on his own. In June 1965, he married his late wife, Bertha J. (Gilbert) Corriveau, and was self-employed as a logger and construction contractor until his health required him to work as a wood buyer part-time. He enjoyed working in the timber industry but also enjoyed visiting with friends, taking rides in the country, and spending time with his granddaughters.

Mr. Corriveau is survived by his two sons, Peter Corriveau, and fiancée Laurie Dellolio, of Colebrook, NH, and Alan Corriveau and wife, Michele, of Colchester, VT; five siblings: Marguerite Breton and husband, Jean, of Quebec City, P.Q., Canada, Paul Corriveau and wife, Simone, of Colebrook, NH, Jeanne Corriveau of Quebec City, P.Q., Canada, Clemence Lambert of Clearwater, B.C., Canada, and Claudette Biron and husband, Gregoire, of Quebec City, P.Q., Canada; two granddaughters, Nicole and Emma Corriveau of Colchester, VT; his companion, Jeanne Simard of Colebrook, NH; and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

He is preceded in death by his wife, Bertha J. (Gilbert) Corriveau on October 6, 1999; and four brothers: Vincent Corriveau, Arthur Corriveau, Gaetan Corriveau and Gregoire Corriveau.
