“ I've known Melanie for many,many years and she was and out going and eccentric person. She loved making wreathes and did an amazing job doing it. She had many talents. There were times when she would get under the skins of her other siblings, but she always had love and care for everyone she surrounded herself with and was always willing to help people out anytime she could. It's a blessing that she was able to go peacefully and without any suffering. She will be truly missed by many people. My heart goes out to her entire family. God Bless, Brexton Boudle
