February 12, 1936 - May 23, 2024

COLEBROOK – Phyllis Chandler, 88, of Colebrook, died on Thursday, May 23, 2024, at Weeks Medical Center in Lancaster, with her daughter by her side, following a long period of declining health.

She was born on Feb. 12, 1936, in Springfield, Mass., a daughter of the late Almond and Frita (Lamotte) Bullock. Phyllis was raised in Springfield and was a 1954 graduate of Commerce High School.

Prior to moving to New Hampshire's north country, Phyllis worked in the administrative office of the YWCA in Springfield. She later worked at The Balsams Grand Resort Hotel in Dixville as the evening front desk supervisor for 22 years until she retired.

Phyllis loved to garden in her spare time. She adored her pet cats throughout her life, and she loved to swim and be in her pool. She also loved to go bowling and snowmobiling in the winter months. Phyllis was a strong-willed woman who was unafraid to let what was on her mind be known.

She was a faithful communicant at St. Brendan's Catholic Church and was a member of the Catholic Women's Club, and was always involved in a fundraiser or fair.

Phyllis leaves behind her daughter, Lorraine Turgeon and her husband Richard of Monson, Mass.; a sister, June Crosby, of Colebrook; a step-son, Gordon Chandler, Jr. of Waterbury, Conn.; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

She was predeceased by her husband, Gordon Chandler, Sr., a son, Michael Jacques, and a sister, Helen Ferrara.

“ Many a good time spent with Phillis and Gordy in our years in Colebrook - from our card parties with Clara and Fred and our Tuesday canasta games. I worked with her at the Balsams front desk and formed a wonderful time with her. Beryl and John Butler
