“ Sam we had so many good memories that its hard to put them all down. But going up to Maine in what we called the hippie van, Guns-n-Roses blaring, with your parents, was one of the best. You were never judgmental and had a great sense of humor. I always thought you'd grow old with the rest of us. My heart aches as I try to accept you will no longer be here. May you rest in eternal peace and know you will never be forgotten. Love you always Sami ❤️

“ Yellow is the color of friendship-let this candle burn as a symbol of all the friends you have touched. You were only across the driveway...anytime. You were a big part of my time in Littleton. You will be greatly missed by all. And Kathy, thank you for calling my mom. I appreciate it. I am so, so sorry. This has not been an easy year for you. I wish I had the right words. ❤️
