“ As I think back to my childhood memories, many of my most fond memories involve this amazing man. I still smile when I remember the time I mowed terrible "stripes", or circles for that matter, in the lawn but he just smiled and fixed it while I was distracted watching little rascals. He was such a kind and gentle soul who gracefully taught me so many great things about this big ol world! These memories will live in my heart forever. May you rest easy Buster, my condolences to your the family. Betty, it's been years but I'm sending my love!

“ There are simply no words that I can find to type that could ease the pain for Buster's family and friends left behind. In the short time I knew him, it didn't take long to discover he was loved by so many people all around, helped so many people and was just a great person who always made me laugh with his jokes and one liners. Sending healing wishes, love and light to his family. Stay strong, Betty. May he rest in peace.

“ The Dragonfly

Once, in a little pond, in the muddy water under the lily pads, there lived a little water beetle in a community of water beetles. They lived a simple and comfortable life in the pond with few disturbances and interruptions.

Once in a while, sadness would come to the community when one of their fellow beetles would climb the stem of a lily pad and would never be seen again. They knew when this happened; their friend was dead, gone forever.

Then, one day, one little water beetle felt an irresistible urge to climb up that stem. However, he was determined that he would not leave forever. He would come back and tell his friends what he had found at the top.

When he reached the top and climbed out of the water onto the surface of the lily pad, he was so tired, and the sun felt so warm, that he decided he must take a nap. As he slept, his body changed and when he woke up, he had turned into a beautiful blue-tailed dragonfly with broad wings and a slender body designed for flying.

So, fly he did! And, as he soared he saw the beauty of a whole new world and a far superior way of life to what he had never known existed.

Then he remembered his beetle friends and how they were thinking by now he was dead. He wanted to go back to tell them, and explain to them that he was now more alive than he had ever been before. His life had been fulfilled rather than ended.

But, his new body would not go down into the water. He could not get back to tell his friends the good news. Then he understood that their time would come, when they, too, would know what he now knew. So, he raised his wings and flew off into his joyous new life!
